COUNTY DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE

COMMITTEE. There will be a meeting of the Demo cratic Executive Committee of Anderson Wednesday next, the 19th inst., at 11 the same correspondent says: o'clock a. m., for the transaction of important business. A full meeting of the Committee is desired.

E. B. MURRAY, County Chairman.

THE APPROACHING CONVENTION. The approach of the time for holding the County Convention of the Demo cratic party, which convenes on Friday the 28th inst., has caused the relative merits and demerits of the various plans for nominating candidates to be again freely discussed. There is no question that the primary election system will be adhered to in the coming campaign in this county, and therefore the public in terest has centered in the consideration of the plurality and the majority plan of election. The plurality plan existed in this county in the primaries of 1876 and 1878, and under it the men having the highest number of votes for the various offices were declared nominated; so that if three men were running for Clerk of the Court, for instance, and there were three thousand votes polled, of which A received twelve hundred, B eleven hundred and C seven hundred, A, whose vote was greater than either B's or C's vote separately, but not equal to their joint vote, which was eighteen hundred, was duly declared nominated. In 1880 the County Convention, by a very close vote, the majority only being about 2.3 of one vote, decided to change this rule and require a majority of all the votes east, so that in the election above in stanced for Clerk of the Court at the conclusion of the first race, which stood A twelve hundred, B eleven hundred, and C seven hundred, there would have been no choice, for to nominate by the majority rule the candidate would be required to get a majority of all the votes cast, or out of the poll of three thousand votes he would be required to receive at least fifteen hundred and one votes, so that a new election would be necessary between A and B, the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for the office. The Executive Committee requested the various clubs of the county to express their preference between the instruct their delegates accordingly, This action of the Committee was wise and discreet, for it takes the settlement of the dispute away from the few, and gives it directly to the people. If the have it, or if they want the majority, they will have it, Every Democrat, therefore, who desires to have a voice in the determination of this question, can do so by attending his club meeting and voting as he prefers. There will be no room to cavil or find fault with the result, for it will represent the will of a majority of the Democrats who feel enough interest in it to go out and vote. Besides settling this question the club meetings held on the 22nd will elect delegates to the County Convention, and also a member of the County Executive session. It is thoroughly Republican in all of its actions and purposes, but worst of all it is controlled by the lesser instead of the greater lights of the party. Taken all together, the country will be benefited when it sees the last of the pression.

The Gladstone Administration met with a surprising defeat on the Irish Repression Bill in Parliament last week. All the foreigners who could had sought safety on the ships bearing their respecthe determination of this question, can also a member of the County Executive Committee. It is of great importance that these club meetings should be well attended, in order to make the action taken by them as near the voice of the whole people as possible, so that there may be no ground for any complaint at on the appointed day. BOOM FOR REFORM. The National House of Representatives needs reformation of manners very badly. The hat of the summer, superadded to the uneasiness of the Republicans, makes them use language in open session which is a disgrace to the body of which they are members and to the country they represent. A few days ago we read of Messrs. Kally and White calling one another liar and scoundrel. and this was followed by a more disgraceful scene with Robeson, which in turn has been eclipsed by Butterworth, of Ohio, whose language in a recent debate on the Civil Appropriation Bill was so obscene and vulgar that a member asked the Chair to have the ladies removed from the gallery, and the remarks were finally ordered to be omitted from the Congressional Record. This sort of thing is disgraceful to our whole country. When the debates in Congress assume such shape that ladies cannot with safety listen to them and they are too bad to be published in the Record, it is time for the country to reflect and remedy the evil by defeating every member who is too much of a blackguard to conduct himself like a gentleman. A continuance of the Congressional performances of the past month would certainly bring down upon us the contempt and disgust of the more intelligent and civilized governments of the world. No man is fit for a Congressman who can be led into indecent vulgarities or into the use of the bully's language just because he gets excited in a debate; and the people owe it to themselves, irrespective of party, to defeat every man for a re-election who has been guilty of such unseemly conduct. Once let it be known that men who do not deport themselves as gentlemen cannot be re-elected, and the eradication of this evil will be accomplished.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA UNIVERSITY.

It is stated in the Columbia correspon ident Wn., Porcher Miles will resign his post in the South Carolina University in consequence of large business interests. which will require his absence from the State. The resignation will be handed to the Trustees at their meeting on the 9th of August, to take effect on the 1st County in the INTELLIGENCER Office on of October. Speaking of the succession, the same correspondent says:

Col. Hugh S. Thompson, the State Superintendent of Education, will in all probability be his successor. I do not know Col. Thompson's position in the matter, but I am satisfied, from conversations I have had with a number of prominent gentlemen, his election would give general satisfaction. His high character, his accomplished scholarship, his fine executive abilities and his acknowledged popularity throughout the state eminently qualify him for the duties of this responsible office, and would largely contribute to the success of the institution. Thoroughly acquainted with the educational necessities of the State, enjoying the confidence and respect of all his fellow-citizens, and trained in the administration of important public trusts, he is undoubtedly the man of all other men in the State for President of the University. In saying this much I feel that I am only echoing the sentiments of the people who will patronize the institution and of those who are charged with its control.

which is soon to become vacant by the resignation of Hon. Wm. Porcher Miles.

There has been some talk of placing Gen. Hampton at the head of the S uth Carolina College, if he persist in the determination to retire from political life. So widely is he known, and so great is his influence that he might accomplish at Columbia what Gen. Lee accomplished at Lexington. With Wade Hampton as the President, the South Carolina College would take a front place in the estingtion. would take a front place in the estimation of those who appreciate the value of high personal influence upon students, at Col-lege, at the age when hero-worship can be made to produce the best results.

Governor Hampton has had no experience in the art of instruction, but as suggested by our contemporary his name and influence would be very valuable to

We had been led to hope Congress would adjourn on the 17th inst., but later reports fix the probable end of the present session for the 1st of August. The consideration of the necessary appropriation bills has been unusually protracted by personal wrangles and uncalled for issues, so that adjournment is by no means easy to fix at this time. With the same delay in the remainder of the session, we will not see the end of Congress before the 1st of September. It is, howmajority and the plurality rule, and to ever, to be hoped that the members will frown down by stern disapproval, and, if necessary, censure any such unseemly and unnecessary hinderances as have distinguished the legislation of the past month in Congress. The adjournment majority want the plurality they will of this body would be very acceptable to the people of the United States, for there has never been a more recklessly partisan Congress assembled than the one now in it necessary to consider the question of session. It is thoroughly Republican in

> The government, backed by the Conservatives, agreed to amend the bill as a concession to Ireland so as to restrict the right of search to the day time, and in this concession they were opposed by the Whigs and Liberals. When the vote was about to be taken, Mr. Gladstone, perceiving the probability of defeat, intimated that he would resign as Premier if his agreed to amend the constant and the property of the constant and the control of the bombarding floet. Suddenly the heavy boom of cannon fell upon the air, and the battle is now in fierce progress. if his amendments were rejected, and seeing that this was not going to save point to be present at his club meeting them from defeat, the Conservatives implored the Irish members to save them from defeat. The Irish members, however, remembered the recent treatment they had received from the Gladstone party, and refused to vote, so that the amendment was lost. Mr. Gladstone, however, reconsidered his resignation in-timation and still holds on, so that the only effect of this little episode was to make the course of the government on the Repression Bill ridiculous.

The organization of a new Democratic Club in Anderson is, in our opinion, most unfortunate. We cannot see any sufficient reason for the existence of a new Club, as the work of the campaign can be best subserved by a large Club working together, rather than by two Clubs working separately. As far as we can ascertain there is really no difference as to measures between the two, and we did not know there was any lack of harmony as to men until the organization of the new Club was inaugurated. We hope the evil consequences of a division which we fear may not occur. If moderation, prudence and the rules of the Democratic party are adhered to throughout, the two Clubs may work in harmout, when some cannot see any sufficient reason for the existence of a new Club was inaugurated. ication of this evil will be accomplished. From that time forward there will be no further occasion for shame on the part of constituents at the demeanor of their Representatives, and the former dignity and universal respect will again be restored to our Congressional assembly. This is a higher question than mere party ascendancy. It involves the moral sentiments of the country, and the people cannot be too vigilant in requiring their Representatives to demean themselves respectably. Their course is sure to have its influence upon the general character and manners of the people, and no man

A WAR IN EUROPE. English Ships of War Bombard Alexan

For some months past negotiations relative to the control of the Suez Canal as a free passage way for European ships en route to the East and returning has been demanding the serious consideration of the nations of Europe-this right being threatened by the Egyptian authorities, backed up by Turkey with possibly some of the governments of Europe. Some days since the negotiations were pressed to the extent of giving Egypt a certain time in which to answer, and thereupon they began fortifying and garrisoning the forts of Alexandria, at which Admiral Seymour, in charge of the English ships of war in the harbor, demanded that these preparations at once cease. The following account of the culmination of hestilities is gathered from telegrams of July 9th from London and Alexandria;

The naval officers have made a reconnoisance and reported that they saw the Egyptians landing heavy guns on the western side of the entrance to the harbor. Admiral Seymour is consequently preparing a proclamation to he backgred.

A NEW SUGGESTION.

The News and Courier suggests (iovering Hampton for the position of President of the South Carolina University, which is soon to become vacant by the resignation of Hou, Wm. Porcher Miles. especially England, we will oppose to the last man," The North German Ga-zette of Berlin reports that after the ro-maining Englishmen had been warned maining Englishmen had been warned to leave Cairo, the German consul issued a similar warning to the 160 Germans still there. The Times in a leading article on Monday morning says: Admiral Seymour will in the morning demand the temporary surrender of the forts at Alexandria for the purpose of disarmament under threat of bombardment in twenty-four hours, A dispatch from Alexandria to the Daily Telegraph says that the American admiral, Nicholson, warned the Arabs working on the forts that if they fire at him he will return the fire.

A dispatch to the Central News, from A dispatch to the Central News, from Constantinople, states that the Turkish Admirality has warned the crews of the Turkish ironclads to be in readiness. The telegraph is now working from a ship moored some miles from Alexandria, communication with the Porte being maintained by dispatch boats. Private telegrams confirm the News notice that the bombardment will begin at 4 o'clock this morning. In the House of Lords this afternoon Lord Granvillo, Foreign Secretary, confirmed the news that unless the Alexandria forts were temporarily surrendered, Admiral Seythat unless the Alexandria forts were temporarily surrendered, Admiral Seymour would bombard them at daybreak to-morrow. It was painful to have to be obliged to use force against a weak power, but hostile preparations had been proceeding in defiance of the orders both of the Khedive and the Sultan. The action now taken was in simple self-defense. In the House of Commons Sir Charles Dilke made a similar statement. It was loudly cheered. The British ships are cleared for action. The Thetis, the Monarch and the Invincible are lying in the harbor. The rest of the ships are outside. The foreign Consuls, excepting the British, protested against the bombardment. All the foreign men-of-war, with the excepprotested against the bombardment. All the foreign men-of-war, with the exception of the English, are lying outside the harbor. The French squadron sailed at sunset, leaving behind only the Alma and the Hirondelle. It is feared in government circles in Venice that the events at Alexandria may anticipate ultimate intervention by the Sultan and provoke a conflict. The first shot fired will make it necessary to consider the question of

THE CAMDEN HOMICIDE.

Another Account of the Killing of Blair. The Evidence at the Inquest.

Other accounts of the killing of Major L. W. R. Blair, at Camden, agree in the main with the facts already published in the News and Courier. A correspondent of the Greenville News gives the fellowing statement of the origin of the difficulty: It seems that on Saturday, the 1st instant, Col. Blair went to a meeting of the Boulah Democratic Club, (of which he was once a member and from which he withdrew in 1889,) armed with a Winchester rifle.

ration, prudence and the rules of the Democratic party are adhered to throughout, the two Clubs may work in harmony, and do efficient service for the party in the coming State, County and municipal campaigns.

The Registration and Election law has worked so admirably in various parts of the State, that the gentlemen who opposed it last January in the Legislature, at the recent session expressed themselves as delighted with its operations. No one introduced a bill to repeal it or to materially modify it, and if such a bill had been introduced, it would have been defeated by the vote of a majority of the
